

Use Colored Pencils or Black Pens on the Pages of the Kindergarten-Friendly Handwriting Book.

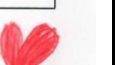

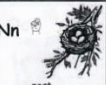

Encourage quality work and differentiate handwriting instruction. It is equally as important to provide a creative challenge for the child who comes into kindergarten already reading and writing as it is to provide a framework that supports the less experienced learner. Build a scaffold of success for ALL children and let your proficient writers soar!

We first teach handwriting within the context of real words (love, cat, dog...). Later these skills are refined with these a-z phonics and word work pages. Enjoy the process.
