November 18, 2017 Salem, OR
Seminar Sponsored by the Marion & Polk Early Learning Hub

At my seminar, this sweet note was left by a kind someone on the presentation table next to my ukulele. It made me smile!

The staff from the Marion & Polk Early Learning Hub did an amazing job organizing this seminar and sharing our vision of excellence.

We appreciated the gracious feedback and the opportunity to return to the Spanish folk songs and Nellie Edge Read and Sing Books™ that I so dearly love to share.

We asked:

Tell us the most important things you learned from this professional development activity. We enjoyed your feedback.

Thank you, Nellie Edge and The Hub: Remember learning is supposed to be fun, engaging, exciting, and involving the child "and family as educators."

Singing cements things in our brains!

Emotional engagement and high expectations greatly influence learning.

(I learned) to give more students more opportunities to write about things they care about.

Thank you for trusting Nellie Edge with your professional development.
