

How News Stories Build Writing Independence, Motivation, and Stamina All Year Long

What Do Authentic Kindergarten News Stories Look Like?

Thoughts from Kindergarten Writing Teacher Heather Cacak Excerpts from blog by Heather Cacak (July 16, 2019) on Nellie Edge.com

"News writing is what all the other students are doing while I am working with writers in a small group, and it's perfect for kindergarten. Five- and six-year-old students are very egocentric, and writing about what's happening in their world is an authentic way to get writing workshop up, running, and continuing to thrive the whole school year."

writing with a teacher

writing news independently

"Students are willing to write news for me each day because they are given choice when it comes to what to write about, and what they choose to write is something deeply important to them. Writing daily news transforms students into willing, joyful, confident communicators and writers!" H.C.

Sampling of all 11 of our News Story pages. Notice the different formats.

An authentic and engaging way to motivate young writers

Children deserve many opportunities to write for a variety of authentic purposes. As reporters, students select the news story topic that most inspires their current thinking. They can even create their own topic, e.g.: New Baby News or Baseball News...

Notice how these open-ended themed writing pages naturally engage the imagination and differentiate learning. In our best kindergarten writing programs, children do not spend time completing meaningless work pages. Instead, they are thinking, drawing, creating meaning, and expressing their unique writing voice with honesty and feeling!

Kid Writing Followed by Adult Under-Writing Provides What We Call Personal 'Rereading for Fluency' Practice

When the adult chooses to write the child's news story in corrected text under the kid writing or at the bottom of the page, it provides a highly meaningful passage for 'rereading for fluency.' At the emergent level, we like to first read the adult writing aloud with careful articulation and expression. Then hand-in-hand, using the Neurological Impress Method (NIM) of guided reading, the child and adult repeats the process until the child is ready to touch and read each word without adult support. Our action-research is built on the pioneering work of Eileen Feldgus and Isabell Cardonick, which they presented in Kid Writing.

Create an Environment for Themed News Stories (notice our updated news stories pages with art from Nellie Edge Read and Sing Books!)

W.K.2. We can use drawing, dictating and writing to compose informative/explanatory texts in which we name what we are writing about and supply some information about the topic.

News Story File Folders and themed writing pages are attached to the door. Teachers save and share exemplars from children's actual independent writing to inform future kid writers.

Use K-1 News Stories themed paper with your students today!

K-1 News Story FREEBIE (10 pages) includes:

- Good News (vertical and horizontal paper)
- Bad/Sad News (vertical and horizontal paper)
- Create an Environment for Themed News Stories
- Teaching for Independence

Download FREE resource NOW on TpT

K-1 News Stories (86 pages) includes:

- 11 themed writing pages in 3 formats
- Writing songs
- Lessons, exemplars, organization
- Anchor charts
- Proven writing workshop resources
- And MORE

Peruse the K-1 News Stories Preview

See Our Comprehensive K-1 Writing Program: Bundle and Save!

"Writing daily news transforms students into willing, joyful, confident, communicators and writers."

Did you know? These pages are a part of "K-1 News Stories" from our Kindergarten Writing Program. Bundle and SAVE! (700 pages)

Authentic writing resources that student, teachers, and parents love! When you purchase the Writing Bundle, you may request a TPT refund on individual Writing Bundle resources if purchased within one year of the bundle.

" This bundle gave my kinders the scaffolding and confidence to truly become writers. The ideas are simple yet profound; this product should be required in every kinder classroom." M.R. quote from TPT

Follow Nellie Edge on TPT for announcements of new products with 50% off for the first 48 hours.

Receive Our Weekly Focus Kindergarten Blog
High-Impact Strategies to Inspire Your Practice. Free Downloads!
Join Now

Teacher Resources

For FREE Nellie Edge resources visit our TpT store.

Creating Schools Worthy of Our Children

For questions, email info@nellieedge.com.